1. Personal Safety and Security: WBU is actively involved in trying to ensure a safe and secure environment for Anchorage Campus employees and students. It is impossible to provide 100% security; however, much can be done to improve it as much as feasibly possible. Safety and security begins, first, with the individual, and Anchorage provides both periodic education and published policies. The information below is designed to assist each individual in developing a personal safety and security plan.

1. Avoid walking alone, especially after dark.

2. Wayland Classroom and Office Security: On the military installations of Elmendorf Air Force Base and Fort Richardson security is provided by each military installation's security forces. Security forces personnel frequently patrol parking areas near and around both Education Centers. At the Parkside Campus, Guardian Security does a walk-through of the facility each evening after class and secures the building for the evening. The campus is equipped with fire and security alarms to include motion sensors. Wayland faculty have been briefed to lock the outside doors at 8 p.m. each evening to prevent non-students from entering the building.
