Joe and Terri (Brown) Jesko graduated from Wayland in 1968, each with a profound sense of gratitude for the University’s influence on their lives. Quality education in a Christian environment, one-to-one relationships with professors, student body participation that developed self-confidence and friendships which have lasted a lifetime are the Wayland characteristics cherished most by the Jeskos.

Having received financial assistance which enabled each of them to attend the University, Joe and Terri are grateful for the privilege of now helping others experience Wayland through this scholarship. Their desire is that each recipient will benefit academically, emotionally, socially, and spiritually…just as they did by attending Wayland. Their further desire is that each student will develop a meaningful walk with the Lord and graduate from Wayland with a deep appreciation for its values and rich heritage.
