The Judith and Richard Morehead Endowed Scholarship

Judith English (Morehead) attended Wayland from 1931 to 1933 and received an Associate of Arts degree. She received a BA degree in chemistry from Texas Tech in 1935 and returned to Wayland that summer to teach chemistry. Judith later earned a Master’s degree in science education at the University of Texas at Austin. In the fall of 1935, she began teaching at Lockney High School. She taught chemistry at McCallum High School in Austin, Texas from 1952-1976.

Richard M. Morehead, Sr. attended Wayland from 1930 to 1931 and again in 1932. Richard received a Bachelor of Journalism degree in May 1935 from the University of Texas at Austin, and worked as a correspondent for United Press from 1935 to 1942. He then was a reporter for the Dallas Morning News at the state capitol in Austin until 1964 and was the Austin Bureau chief from 1964 until his retirement in 1980. Richard received an honorary doctorate degree from Wayland during the 1959 commencement.

Judith English Morehead and Richard M. Morehead, Sr. were married June 19, 1936 in Dallas, Texas. They have one daughter, Judith Chapin, at Lampasas, Texas, and one son, Richard M. Morehead, Jr., M.D., at Santa Rosa, California.

Dr. I.E. Gates, former president of Wayland, performed the marriage of Richard’s parents, E.J. Morehead and Ethel Daily, in 1910. The Morehead family has been vitally involved in Wayland since the University’s beginning.
